Group whose presentation I am marking:

Peer marking PowerPoint Presentations

Put one tick in each column for each statement:

	 Oops. Not really	 Sort of	 Yes! Well done
Content:
Question clearly stated
At least different pieces of evidence given that help to answer the question
Explains clearly how evidence relates to question
Conclusion: Finishes by answering the question . Answers are based on evidence not just the group's own opinions.
Easy to follow structure (such as PEEL)
References all sources used (either on individual slides or all on one slide at the end)
Presentation:
Everyone in the group played a part (which might not always involve speaking)
Every slide had a clear purpose
Slides were clear and easy to read <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Text big enough and a readable colour • Most slides did not contain more than about 10 words
Transitions (and animations if used) were not flashy and did not distract from the content
The group explained each slide clearly and did not just read it out.
The group had made a clear effort to make the presentation interesting and engaging. I could hear what they said.
Total number of ticks in each column:	x0pts	x1pt	x2pts
Total mark:  x0 +  x1 +  x2 =			/24

Now give the group some feedback to help them to improve:

I thought you did these things really well....

I thought your presentation would have been would be even better if...
