

Name

Class

Date

Investigative Journal: Persuasive speech (one sheet per source)

Type of source:	<input type="checkbox"/> The Day <input type="checkbox"/> Britannica <input type="checkbox"/> Other online source (name of site: _____) <input type="checkbox"/> Book <input type="checkbox"/> Magazine/ newspaper (Name: _____)
Source:	Title of article, webpage or book: _____ Author: _____ Publication date: _____ URL: _____
What information have I found? Summarise or paraphrase the main points. You might want to copy some good quotes to use in your speech (don't forget quotation marks for anything you copy directly '...', and page numbers for print sources). Fascinating facts and statistics might be useful.	Why is it relevant to my inquiry? Why is this information helpful for my argument? Does it raise any interesting questions? Will it help me with ETHOS (my credibility), PATHOS (appeal to emotions) or LOGOS (logic)?
I will be writing a persuasive speech. What do I think my main point will be? Summarise the argument this article helps me to make:
What ideas have occurred to me while reading this article about rhetorical techniques I could use in my speech, such as rhetorical questions, triplets, hyperbole or repetition?

Investigative Journal: Persuasive speech (one sheet per source)

Type of source:	<input type="checkbox"/> The Day <input type="checkbox"/> Britannica <input type="checkbox"/> Other online source (name of site: _____) <input type="checkbox"/> Book <input type="checkbox"/> Magazine/ newspaper (Name: _____)
Source:	Title of article, webpage or book: _____ Author: _____ Publication date: _____ URL: _____
What information have I found? Summarise or paraphrase the main points. You might want to copy some good quotes to use in your speech (don't forget quotation marks for anything you copy directly '...', and page numbers for print sources). Fascinating facts and statistics might be useful.	Why is it relevant to my inquiry? Why is this information helpful for my argument? Does it raise any interesting questions? Will it help me with ETHOS (my credibility), PATHOS (appeal to emotions) or LOGOS (logic)?
I will be writing a persuasive speech. What do I think my main point will be? Summarise the argument this article helps me to make:
What ideas have occurred to me while reading this article about rhetorical techniques I could use in my speech, such as rhetorical questions, triplets, hyperbole or repetition?			